“ I want you to know that I am so sorry for your loss. The pain of losing a loved one can be unbearable without the support of friends, family and encouraging words from those you may not know. The best encouragement comes when you meditate on the wonderful hope for the dead. Jesus spoke of this hope before he restored life to his close friend Lazarus. These comforting words was directed to Martha one of Lazarus' grieving sibling. These are the words Jesus spoke to her: "Jesus said to her: Your brother will rise. Martha said to him: " I know he will rise in the resurrection on the last day." Jesus said to her: " I am the resurrection and the life. The one who exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life....." Yes the guaranteed hope of the resurrection enables us to cope with the tragic loss.- John 11:23-25b. This guaranteed hope is a reality because Jesus as well as his Father do not and can not lie. May your contemplation of it provide strength and comfort at this time. I am so, so sorry for your loss.

“ Sorry for your lost but remember Isaiah 26:19 " Your dead will live, My corpese will rise up. Awake and shout joyfully, You resident in dust! For your dew is as the dew of the morning , And the earth will let those powerless in death come to life.
