“ I meet Ashley while working and remember her while walking through the halls of the hospital just about every morning with that beautiful smile. I remember when she brought home her beautiful babies. She was an amazing mother. She was the most amazing loving, kind, affection, young lady I have ever met. My heart is filled with plenty of prayers for her family. I pray all God's peace that passes all your understanding. I pray God's strength for now and the days to come. I pray God wraps His loving arms around you and comfort you.
