

Ms. Barbara Chisolm

June 13, 1954 - August 13, 2020

Barbara Marie Chisolm was born June 13, 1954 to the late Danny C. Monroe and Margie L. Monroe in Fayetteville, North Carolina. She was preceded in death by her husband SSG. Harry Gene Chisolm.

Barbara was educated in the Cumberland County School System and graduated from Seventy-First High School. Barbara dedicated her life to God at an early age. After her baptism, she served as a Sunday School teacher and held that position for thirty years. Barbara was a respected member of St. Peter Missionary Baptist Church and held positions in the choir, Rainbow Tea Committee and The Black History Program.

Helping children was Barbara's biggest passion and as a foster parent for over twenty years, she was able to nurture and love children who needed a safe home. She would often call herself "the bridge" for children until they found their new family.

She will be forever remembered by her two sons, Antonio Jerido and Ontario D. Chisolm, and four grandchildren Nathan, Brooklyn, Ontaviana and Talia. She will also be fondly remembered by her siblings, Katherine Shives, Shelia Revels, Brenda Smith, Vertel Houston - Fred (sister-in-law of Loganville, G.A.), Sarah Odom (sister-in-law of Philadelphia, P.A.), Rosa Bell Roseborough (sister-in-law of Brooklyn, N.Y.) & Mamie Burks (sister-in-law of Woodside, N.Y.). Brothers Weldon Clark - Pamela (Riverdale, G.A.), Steven Monroe (Baltimore, M.D.), Rodgers Chisolm (brother-in-law Philadelphia, P.A.) & Curtis Chisolm (brother-in-law of Bamberg, S.C.). Barbara also had 3 siblings to proceed her in death, Edna Washington, Ethel Monroe & Robert Monroe. Three Great Aunt's, Ethel Lee Monroe & Ann Cheatham (Fayetteville, N.C.) & Patricia Nelson (Sandy Springs, G.A.). A special friend Jerry Chavis. A host of Nieces, Nephews, Cousins and many other lives that she has touched.

Just finding out about Barbara. I use to be her hairstylist for years, she always gave the most sound advise. And talked about her sons who she cherished. Sending condolences to Barbara's sons, grandchildren and family.
