“ Mr. Leach, the place you now live is one of love, peace, and tranquillity. You will be missed, but you did what all great men do: you left a lasting legacy in your daughter, my sister. Though we only spoke in passing, your comment to me that I was worth the time will be the first conversation I have with you when the time comes. I have a few friends you might meet in heaven; just keep an eye out for those rascals . I'm sure you'd get the joke. In the All Mighty, there is peace and love. Mr. Leach, farewell. Dr. Raymond Youngblood, Jr., Your friend and your gold miner.
