To the Washington family, we share in you lost and we are also greatly saddened that you've lost your father, our uncle. God makes no mistake. He plucked from the garden in his time the ripples fruit. You're in a place where we have already home. God will take us from here. No more pain and suffering for our dear family member. God and time will heal your wound. Just keep your focus on him. Be bless and know that we love y'all. Gloria and Henry Woodberry

“ Many may not know this but Buster was my brother. I loved him dearly. My memories go back to when I was younger and he would come and stay with us in the summer to help on the farm. I always admired him and his accomplishments in the Military. He would always come to visit when returning from a duty station. Later in life I began traveling with my husband who was Military so our paths didn't cross as often as I would have liked. One thing I can say whenever we did see each other it was a joy. He will truly be missed. Sleep in peacemy brother from Baby Sister. Shirley. ❤️
