To the family; words cannot express the feelings I am now experiencing. For yet another friend has traveled into eternity. I shall always remember the laughter, joking and the conversations shared over the years. Carrie was a friend that I was always happy to see no matter what kind of day I was having. You see she would always manage to leave you either smiling or laughing. Isn't that so refreshing, Because we know that everyone goes through something. But with her you could never tell. Even our very last conversation. I didn't know she was that close to the end of this life. And yet there she was consoling me because I had lost loved ones. Who wouldn't love a person like that. May you R.I.P. and take leave from all suffering. For I shall never lose the memories. Thank You for being my friend and never judging my imperfections.
