“ Notice Of Address Change

Please be informed that my address has changed. I no longer reside in Fayetteville, North Carolina. I have been preparing to move into my new residence for some time now. It took a lot of hard work and perseverance but I kept on building. I was tested and tries, but I kept on building, my master carpenter was always there to encourage and encourage me. My new home will last forever, no more pain, doctors visits or medicine. Finally on January 26, 2013, my building was complete and my heavenly Father called me on home to be with Him. To my family and friends, I want you to know that I lingered as long as I could because I knew you didn't want me to go. I know that you will miss me but you have each other for support. Thank you to everyone for being there with me during my final days of getting ready to go. When you want to reach me, look inside of yourself and summon me through the memories of your special and unique experiences. Go on now and get busy preparing your new home; for one day you will live in my neighborhood. Now I leave with you my new address, St. John Hwy, 3:16, Heaven.
