“ I met Mr. David around a year and half ago and got to know him over that time, I would listen to him talk about when he was a young man and how much he has seen this world change over his lifetime. I also had the pleasure to witness him give his life to the lord and ask Jesus Christ to become his savior, and he followed that up in obedience with baptism. I didn't know Mr. David for the majority of his Life but I witnessed him make the most important decision he made in his life and I know he is enjoying all the sites he is seeing in Glory now. I pray for the family members he has left behind that their sadness will turn into fond memory's when they think of Mr. David, and I extend my condolences to you.
