“ First and foremost my condolence to the family. McKelley was known by the nick name Chap in the Barracks.

He was the first soldier that I ever met, that flew home on leave and brought back 12 in subwoofers for his car.

He will truly be missed ,and will always be a Whyte Houze member for life.

“ On McKelly sharing his opinions on being called a cook in the Army: He was always letting me know he was a Chef, not just a cook; with a smile on his face(showing all his golds); and a pep in his step! I will never forget our conversations in that old DFAC building 🙏👉 Rest easy Brother! You are at peace!
