“ I don't know where to begin honestly. You were like my bestfriend, you'd sit with me on the long bus rides when nobody else would & we'd talk about everything & count cars. You made a joke of everything and everyone loved to call your name, the whole school loved you so much it broke everybody when you left, we had your seat empty for month scared to feel like we were replacing you. I thought about you thru the rest of schooling, wondering what you'd be wearing or who you would've chose to be your friend. I wish I had all the notes we passed. I know you would probably be somewhere rn brightening someone's day or even just walking around taking in every little detail of life. I named My daughter Ivy & today I found out your middle name is Ivan and that broke my heart for reasons I don't even understand. I pray that you're still smiling that radiant smile & when we meet again you tell me your stories and I'll tell you mine. Forever in my prayers 💜

“ It's been about 5 years kid and I never did understand how I knew it was you when my dad got the phone call. Listen Ke, your classmates have 2 more years on us and then we get out into the real world with you still leaving a huge but positive impact on us. Your smile was had a crazy vibe to it, when I say you literally made people smile with just your presence that is truth told, you just had that thing about you. I still don't know what happened I have heard different stories, I'll let you tell it some day. Thanks for being my friend, thanks for getting in trouble with me in Ms Biggerstaff's classroom. Thank you for being a part of my life I push forward now for your legacy. I love and miss you everyday, Til we meet again Kemari Ivan Williams ~Tyren Walker

“ My son, you were and still are a positive motivational force in my life. Since day one that you were given to your mother and I you have shown the both of us what true love is really about. I remember when we use to sit down and talk, and afterwards you would look at me and smile. Your smile was so radiant that it would put a smile on my face or anyone around. I always loved when we laughed and joked together then I would kiss you on your forehead and tell you I Love You . I LOVE YOU MY SON! I MISS YOU SO MUCH!...Until We will meet up again.. LOVE ALWAYS YOUR DAD!! I LOVE YOU SON!!! Phalms 23. The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want. He maketh me to lay down in green pastures. He leadth me beside the still waters he restoreth my soul he leadth my soul. He leadth me in the path of righteousness for his name sake... Although I walked through the Valley of the shadow of death for you will fear no evil for the Lord is with you. Thy rod and thy staff will comfort you he will prepare a table before you in the presence of your enemies. He will annoint your head with oil your cup will run over, and you will dwell in his house for evermore. I love you Kemari my son... Amen...

“ To the Williams Family...I am sorry for your loss. I don't know your family personally but I know your heart is heavy losing little Kemari. During a time such as this we are encouraged to throw our burden upon God, he will sustain us, he will never allow the righteous to fall. (Psalm 55:22). The bible tells us that one day all tears from our eyes will be done away with...all death, sickness, sorrow and pain will be no more. (Revelation 21:4). I hope you find solace in these scriptures.

“ I've known him since kindergarten so it's kind of hard to think that something like this actually happened. A simple joke can go far, and so I know now what it feels like, and how it affects others. I'm so very sorry and I pray for his mother, sister, and brother every night. But I'll never be able to sleep good in this neighborhood EVER again.

“ Kemari was a smart young man. I remember him sitting in my class when he was in 3rd grade and he always tried to do his best and was full of spirit. To his family he is an angel gone too soon but always remeber God doesn't make any mistakes and its all in his plan. I pray for healing, understanding and peace for you in this time of great sorrow.
