I offer my deepest condolences to the family. The Lord will comfort you during this time of loss. I have so many memories of Kia, she stayed with us for a short while in Dallas. I remember her attending my Sunday School class, on that day I had more participation than ever and I also remember On one occasion, She wanted to visit the Potter's House church. She really enjoyed church that Sunday. I specifically remember her boldness. She had the boldness of Peter.

For the Christian, we don't bereave without hope. Our Lord has promised to comfort us during these troubling times. Not only that, He send angels to escort the believer to the presence of the Lord.

Pastor Butler, I offer my assistance in any way possible, please reach me.

The last time I saw Kai, she was so excited about her new path and full of life. We shared special moments as we took her to the airport, talking about her new beginnings, the experiences ahead, and her desire to finish her invention. She was vibrant, deeply in love with God, and determined to step boldly into a new chapter.

My husband and I were committed to guiding her and being there for her always. I will remember her love for God, her fearlessness, her free spirit, and her loving heart. She will be deeply missed. Rest well, beautiful sister. 🙏❤️ Pastor Joanie Jenkins
