“ I coached Marcus in wrestling at Western Branch High School in the late 1990's. He was a superior athlete and an even better human being. I'll never forget the night his win against Great Bridge High School secured our team victory. Him raising his arms after his win was arguably the greatest athletic night of his life. A competitive athlete in multiple sports, Marcus was like a little brother to me. I've thought him every day since his untimely passing. Marcus, I'm sure God has was there to welcome you into the pearly gates. Your spirit lives throughout those of us left here in the Western Branch area. We love you!

“ I remember Marcus from the Walmart DC back in early 2000. I was shock to hear about his passing. He was very easygoing. RIP Marcus.

“ Marcus and I were coworkers at Walmart DC 6040 and reunited when I ran into him at Sports Academy. He told me that my Uncle Clayton had just left there, which my uncle was a Walmart coworker as well. He said both of yall the same day, wow. He said Ralph, you know where I'm at now to come check me out. This guy trained me at Walmart and we became good friends. I'm going to miss you man, Rest Easy my brother.

“ So sad to see a young one being mourned. The Bible says that it is better to go to the house of mourning. There is where a name is shared. May you have comfort in remembering him and all that he meant to you. The Bible tells us at John 11:25 that Jesus gives us a promise of a resurrection. Look forward to that day when you see him again. No more crying, mourning or death. I pray that these few words and scripture can give you comfort at this time.
