Martha Delphine Myles, was born August 16, 1960 in Dunn, North Carolina to the late Croon and Josephine Williams. Martha resided in Dunn, North Carolina with two of her brothers, Chico and Michael Williams. Martha attended and graduated from Cape Fear High School. Through her journey of life she met her husband, Nathaniel Myles, Jr. whom she married and had three children. Martha was preceded in death by her son, Kirk Myles, stepson, Nathaniel “Baby” Myles, III and granddaughter, Tashawn Chestnutt. Martha is survived by her husband, Nathaniel Myles, Jr; two daughters, Bessie Faison and Jennifer Chestnutt; stepdaughter, Barbara Gerald; two stepsons, Elliott “Barry” Myles and Nathue “Jaime” Myles; ten grandchildren, Jalisa Myles, Zabriann Myles, Destany Myles, Shakyra Chestnutt, Treshawn Chestnutt, Jakayla Chestnutt, Lamar Chestnutt, Shamar Chestnutt, Katelyn Chestnutt, and Nala Faison; nine siblings, Croon Williams (Martha), James Williams (Christine), Lillie Godwin, Henry Williams, Queen Evans (Ron), Sheila Morrison (Jerry), Ricky Williams (Lakeisha), Chico Williams, and Michael Williams; two aunts, Rosa Hagan, and Ollie Williams; a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends. Martha was a very reserved woman who loved her family. She enjoyed reading, writing, and someday wanted to write a book about her life’s journey. She loved the ocean and desired to vacation in Jamaica. She was a very good cook and made some mean sweet potato pudding that did not stand a chance. The way she called one of her granddaughter’s name when she was in trouble would make you laugh so hard....JALISAAAAA. Love you
