“ There's so much I could say about my former student Nestor. He was very intelligent, caring, gentle, and a good person. I spent so much time with Nestor as his ESL teacher working on his schoolwork. He tried so hard to learn English and bring up his grades. He stayed after school for tutoring, and very often, especially during the pandemic, we would work virtually on the computer to get his assignments done. During those times, he would pour out his heart to share his dreams. All he wanted was to be his best to help support his family. He wasn't afraid to work hard to get there. I know he would have achieved the plans he was setting for his life.

I always had a special place in my heart for Nestor, and I always will. I taught his niece and nephew at other schools as well as his and saw his sister-in-law at school often. I also saw his brother occasionally at school meetings, so the Ramirez family felt like family to me and made me feel that way.

Finding out the terrible news about Nestor has left me shocked and gutted. Nestor, you were like a son I never had. I could just hear your voice in my head all day yesterday through my constant tears and see your beautiful smile that you had all the time, no matter what. It was especially easy with me making you laugh. I will never forget you. Please watch over Edwin, Lidia, their mom, and your brother. We love you forever. 💔
