

Mr. Robert Bobby Johnson

December 14, 1969 - December 5, 2024

Robert Bobby Johnson was born in The Bronx, New York, however was shortly relocated to New York, New York where he was raised by Gladys “Bell” King-Johnson whom he came to know as his loving mother. He attended and graduated from Louis D. Brandeis High School, located in New York, in 1988; here he was known as one of the most popular and exceptionally intelligent gentlemen in his senior year.

BOBBY had a laughter that was contagious; as he loved to make others around him smile and be happy, especially his friends and family. He never failed to make them laugh, even if they had a terrible day.

BOBBY favorite pastime growing up was to sit and look out of the window in “Lionel Hampton.” He also loved to dance and listen to music of all types of music, whether it be Gospel, RnB, Rap or Hip-Hop.

BOBBY relocated to North Carolina during his adulthood, where he lived in different cities such as Fayetteville and Spring Lake. He lived with, and was attached to his mom Gladys.

Biheem Johnson and Robert B. Johnson (last sibling).

BOBBY leaves to cherish his memory: a host of nieces, nephews, great nieces/nephews, great aunts/uncles, great-great nieces/nephews, and many other relatives and friends.
