“ This is difficult to express. We spoke on the morning of your passing, and if I had known it would be our last conversation, I would have taken the time to share just how much I cherished our friendship over the past 40 years. You left a lasting mark on everyone you encountered, and for that, my friend, I thank you. I am praying for strength for your wife, kids, and family during this challenging time.

Shawn, we first met in elementary school, those early years of hip hop and break dancing, when I was young and insecure; and you were a truly gracious person that accepted me and always made me feel like a friend, from hanging out in UE or when you celebrated my birthday. In middle and high school, you made me feel at home in those years when we transitioned from adolescents to adults and always had jokes and smiles and some real conversations to help me reflect on your grace to be more grateful for living. Hope to see you again at our next reunion in Heaven and for now I thank God that we all got to know you and we will miss you and that big love you shared: Rest in Peace and please spread your wings as an angel upon us with your Holy Spirit 🙏
