“ I remember Ms. Davis fondly. She taught me at Alexander Graham Junior High. She also taught my older sister, so she would sometimes call me the wrong name. When she did that, I wouldn't answer her because I was a bit of a smart mouth. Because Ms. Davis knew my parents, she let me know that my insolence would not be tolerated, she would handle me and then call my parents and they would handle me. Needless to say, she had no more problems with me. Rest in peace, Ms. Davis. You've earned it!!

FROM MAY 1ST THROUGH THE 31ST, IT'S MY BIRTHDAY 🎂🎉

“ Ms. Davis was my 7th grade English teacher when Reid Ross was a Jr. High School back in '87-88. Everyone thought that she was mean because she was strict but she was not mean. I remember her still after all these years. Sorry that she is gone.
