

SGT Wayne Leon Hightower II

October 5, 1983 - December 9, 2024

Wayne Leon Hightower II, 41, of Fayetteville, NC, entered eternal rest on December 9, 2024. A beloved husband, father, son, brother, and friend, Wayne's departure leaves an unfillable void in the hearts of all who knew him.

Wayne, known to many as "Kookie Bear" or "Skates", was born on October 5, 1983, in Fayetteville, NC, to Wayne Hightower Sr. and Phyllis Hightower. Throughout his life, he demonstrated a deep sense of loyalty and love for his family. Wayne proudly served for 12 years in the North Carolina National Guard as a NCO, where he earned the respect and admiration of his fellow service members. Wayne's creativity and passion for music provided many with happiness and joy.

He leaves to cherish his memories to his wife, Shaniqua Hightower, and their three children: Trenton, Brenton, and Brooklyn Hightower, who were the light of his life. Wayne is also survived by his parents, Wayne Hightower Sr. and Phyllis Hightower; his sister, Nikya Hightower; his beloved grandmother, Pearl Lytch; and Godfather, Curtis Smith Jr. He is further mourned by a host of aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends, all of whom will remember him for his kind spirit and loyalty to those he loved.

Wayne's family, friends, and colleagues will remember him as a man of integrity, honor, and compassion. His legacy will continue to live on in the hearts of all who were fortunate enough to know him.

Wayne Leon Hightower II will be deeply missed but never forgotten. May he rest in peace, knowing his life made a lasting impact on all those around him.

“ Unfortunately I will be unable to make the funeral service but will be present during the livestream and in spirit. I worked with Hightower on Team 1 at MATES. He was such a great person and so funny. He knew his stuff too. I am grateful to have known him. I send my condolences to his family at this time of great loss. Rest in the most lovely peace and greatest power Hightower. 🙏🕊️❤️

“ Today is the day we say our final words , not goodbyes, but see you later! We are deeply torn from the passing of our cousin , which was more like or brother. Growing up you would see one without the other, even going through schooling together. They knew us more like the Lytchmobb! Our moms being so close in age and me and Kookie being a few months apart we went everywhere with our moms together . For 17 years he was the only kid and known as the Toys “r” us cousin bc he was so spoiled. So many people have shared so many great memories of Kookie these past few days and it has helped me cope tremendously. From inspiring them to do the rap thing to being tech savvy and jail breaking fire sticks , he was super talented and smart. It was never a dull moment when Kookie was around . He was most definitely the life of the party . The one who had stories for day , the one who threw so of the dopest gatherings , he even got me to go camping 2x 😭. Whenever my messenger rang I would pick up and listen to anything he had to say and do his hair when he asked me to. He was 2 of my sons God daddy but bonded with son #2 .All I can picture is you smiling, laughing, joking, and let’s not forget dancing around! I love you Kookie sleep in peace with no more suffering !

“ My sincere condolences to Mr. Hightower Sr. and his entire family. Just know that Wayne II is in very good hands with our Lord and Saviour. No more worrying about him just think of the fond memories that you all had while God loan him to you. He's called home for a reason that reason we will never know just take solace in knowing that he is taking a peace rest. God bless you all, Walter Moore.
